

Protect Wildlife, Protect the Future!

In line with sustainability and nature conservation;

Please avoid purchasing illegal products, souvenirs, or decorative items made from endangered wildlife species.

Many animal and plant species are protected under the CITES (Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora) agreement. The trade and transport of such items is illegal and harms global biodiversity.

What can you do?

Do not buy animal products of unknown origin.

Be cautious of souvenirs made from shells, feathers, bones, or animal teeth.

When in doubt, research before buying.

Support sustainable and local production.

Remember: Your conscious choices help protect nature.
